Energy-medicinal certificate of analyses

In the following we present the results of a trial - on the basis of the meridian diagnostics (System Prognos) – with regards to the biologic-energetic effects of your product: “Cosmic UMH-Energetisator”

Conducting these studies, 4 targets have been aimed at – taking several methods and questionings into account – to get a validation as precise and as high as possible:

1. Evaluating the effect when positioning the UMH-energetisator on special spots of the skin
2. Evaluation of the effect when the UMH-energetisator is used as preventive of low-frequented electro-smog (power supply of laptop)
3. Evaluation of the reaction when the UMH-energetisator is used as preventive of high frequented electro-smog (mobile phones)
4. Evaluation of the impact when the UMH-energetisator is used in the usual drug tests

Subjects: 16 (6 female, 10 male)

Period of the trial: May 2003

Method: Measuring of skin resistance at 24 meridian points, followed by taking the average and comparing the new average with the one of the previous test. Evaluating the change in harmony as reciprocal value (correlating value) of the 24 gathered results.

Interpretation of the data:

Topic 1:

The first test aimed at finding out if the localization (positioning) of the cosmic UMH energetisator has an impact on the result. For that, the following important points have been selected:

- a) the left palm (for drug tests usually used as point of receiving principle)
- b) mid of the forehead, slightly above the eyebrows (extra point Yin Tang, 3. eye)

There is, from the energetic point of view, a neutral test result and from a harmonical point of view an evident improvement, in a kind that the overall result is positive. Regarded as a drug, the cosmic UMH energetisator is accepted by the body.

The area of the chakra in the mid of the forehead proves to be optimal for the localization of the cosmic UMH energetisator, because energy and harmony increase obviously, so that we can speak of a remedy. This result can be explained by the high correlation between the vibration of the hypophysis with the one of the cosmic energetisator.

As the frequency pattern of a fine/subtle agent (medicine) cannot be the same on every level, the opinion is justified that the cosmic UMH energetisator is a high vibrating framework that cannot have a sufficient identity with a lower vibrating solar plexus.

The improved meridians are exclusively in the higher meridians which start and end at the hands, and have a tight relation to the regulatory centres of the autonomous systems in the brain stem. The lower meridians which are responsible for the metabolism are almost not influenced, which again pleads for the accentuated effect of the cosmic UMH energetisator on the CNS (central nervous system).

Topic 2:

The second trial was to evaluate if the usually negative effects of the alternating current will be compensated by the cosmic UMG energetisator or if they even can be changed into the positive. These low-frequented electric and electromagnetic fields infect mainly the sensitive structures of the belly.

The power supply of the laptop (synchronized, about 30KHz, with supply of 50Hz alternating current), has actually a very negative impact on the net of the meridians, harmonically even more evidently than energetically. The cosmic UMH energetisator between power supply and the skin of the belly can not only equalize this perturbation, but even convert it in an almost equal positive effect.

This means that the pathological field effects are not only transformed into body-compatible, but even in constitutive fields and waves. The cosmic UMH energetisator does not shield and suppress, but it transforms the technically unnatural wave-types into a biologically natural form.

The cosmic UMH energetisator optimizes primary these meridians which refer to the following organs: spleen, stomach, pancreas, liver, gall-bladder, large intestine, urinary bladder and lungs. Secondary, there are: heart, circulation of the blood, small intestine, kidney etc.

Topic 3:

The third part of the trial aimed at evaluating the ability of the cosmic UMH energetisator, in the battle against these high-frequented and digitally pulsed radiation, to provide a solution also for users of mobile phones without limiting their comfort.

As expected, there is strong decrease of energy and harmony in the human body which is comparable to that of the low-frequented stress. Subject 4 reacted extremely sensible. He is obviously allergic on frequencies in mega and giga Hz-range.

Our experiment has shown that the reduction of the energy and harmony values are transformed in strongly positive reactions. The cosmic UMH energetisator uses the irradiating technical energy and disinformation to receive a healing effect for the organism after its conversion.

The concerned meridians are again only localized in the upper part whereas the lesser circulation which is responsible for the immuno system is positively influenced.

Topic 4:

In this part the routine application of the cosmic UMH energetisator – without setting a special touchstone- is made. The patients were given the UMH-disk in the left hand without explanations. They also did not question so that it was quasi a blind trial/test.

The results are almost identical with the ones received in topic 1 a), namely: an improvement of energy and harmony with an increase all in all of +4%. The organs and systems are all – as already mentioned – vegetative-autonomously (unconsciously) regulated. They are all in the upper part. So the main effect on the subcortical respectively lower parts of the cortex of the brain is confirmed.

Summary:

1. The cosmic UMH energetisator shows significantly a positive effect which is highly settled in kinds of the informative frequency pattern. The following parts of the brain are referred to: Hypophysis, Thalamus (main part of the diencephalon), Hypothalamus (part of the diencephalon), limbic system, brain stem.
2. Consequently, the effect of the cosmic UMH energetisator is, while applying to the skin, the better the closer the localization to the CNS is, respectively the higher the chakra area is. Energy and harmony are increased the same with this kind of application.
3. For protection against electro-smog the cosmic UMH energetisator is very good, because it is effective for low as well as for high frequencies. Furthermore, it neutralizes not only the negative technical irradiation, but converts it in constitutive and healing waves.
4. The cosmic UMH energetisator should, for protection against electro-smog, be placed between the source of the radiation and the skin. The localization there is not of importance, because the conversion respectively transformation in positive wave patterns is good at the ear as well as at the upper belly. So the UMH disk can successfully be placed on the upper belly, or 5 cm below the breast-bone where the solar plexus is, while working at a PC or laptop.

Changes in the energy values (mean measured over 10 people)

Changes in the harmony values (mean measured over 10 people)
